Shih-tsui-shan Thermal Electric Power Plant, Communist China
(1) ORR Requirement No. 41/62 (Revised 17 June 1963)
(2) CIA/PID Project No. C 730/63

1. This memorandum is forwarded in response to your above mentioned requirement, which requested a search and description of a reported thermal electric power plant near Shih-tsui-shan (Shih-chu-shan), Communist China; at coordinates 39 14N - 106 45E.

2. A thermal electric power plant was identified on recent photography near the reported location. The plant is located approximately 2 nm NE of Shih-tsui-shan at coordinates 39 15N - 106 47E. This location is only approximate as the available maps over the target area are of poor quality and contain unreliable detail. A time correlation and plant development study could not be made because comparative photography was not available over the target area. Only one photo mission was available

Although smoke was not being emitted from the tall stack associated with the plant, dark smoke or dust was evident on the east side of the boiler house. The plant was probably operational at the time of photography. The plant is probably stocked with both coal and oil; two tanks are located just southeast of the boiler house. The generator hall measures approximately 150' x 40'.
